Vancouver Neighbourhood Food Networks

Vancouver Neighbourhood Food Networks are community food organizations supporting a “right to food” philosophy - equitable access to food that is

healthy and nutritious,
affordable for all,
culturally appropriate
and sustainably produced.

In so doing, we work to promote health, wellness and positive change for our communities and the environment.

Each Food Network is involved in a variety of food initiatives that respond to the particular food needs and interests within each neighbourhood and communities.

We similarly focus on food skills building, education and awareness, engagement, and food access.
